Enhance your participation in ASM Microbe Online by taking advantage of the Industry & Science On-Demand Symposia offerings. This opportunity will ensure that your company stands out from the competition and makes a lasting impression. Attendees will learn about the latest services and product development from company representatives. The format is 1-hour of recorded content provided by the organizer. As an added benefit, Industry & Science participants will have priority listing on the Virtual Showcase home page. This opportunity is exclusively available to exhibitors that reserved booth space at ASM Microbe 2020 and ASM Corporate Council members.
